Emmes Scholarship Fund

What is Emmes Scholarship Fund?

The Emmes Scholarship Fund seeks to encourage students to choose, pursue and advance career and work in the area of public health. This scholarship (full/ half/ part) fund will be available to students enrolling for Master of Public Health (MPH) programs at IIPHS (Delhi NCR, Gandhinagar, Hyderabad, Shillong).

Locations where Master of Public Health (MPH) program is available

The MPH program is currently being offered by Indian Institutes of Public Health (IIPHS) under the aegis of PHFI at Delhi NCR (Gurgaon), Gandhinagar (Gujarat), Hyderabad (Telangana) and Shillong (Meghalaya).

Scholarship criteria

The Emmes Scholarship will be based on the setout selection process as per the Institutional guidelines including but not restricted to merit, means and demonstrated need. They will also be mentored over the course of study and will be guided to develop their full potential and to pursue their passion and build strong careers in public health. The fund also encourages scholars to take up roles in non-governmental organizations and backward areas of the country to implement public health programmes.

Scholarship will be awarded to candidates who have specific interest in Public Health. This will be assessed through:

- previous work experience in public health OR;
- previous education or research projects focussed on public health

Amongst the group that meets the above criteria, preference will be accorded to

- Meritorious students
- Socially and economically weaker sections
- Candidates having relevant work experience in public health in backward and rural districts in India
