In a very short span of time, Indian Institutes of Public Health (IIPHs) have made a niche by providing competency driven academic programs in public health. Through our journey of academic programs we have constantly evolved to match with the changing requirements of employers. Our academic programs have been designed and consistently upgraded by us to help students acquire skills to identify and respond to current public health challenges. The programs are structured on a multi-disciplinary curriculum, including epidemiology, biostatistics, public health management, demography, sociology, health promotion and health economics. A blend of theoretical knowledge and practical skills can be seen at its best in our curriculum. The academic sessions and assignments have been designed and consistently upgraded by us to enable the students learn different aspects in the changing world of public health, through guest lectures, field visits, class assignments, presentations, group work etc.

Our students of outgoing batches of MPH, MSc, MHA and PGDPHM program across IIPHs for academic year 2019-2020 comprise of enthusiastic, vibrant, energetic and professionally competent students with heterogeneous background, persona and motivation for joining public health. Despite the heterogeneity, they are united by their values and commitment to create a niche for themselves in public health sector. I am sure that their commitment will make them a great asset to your organisation. Over the years, the employers have given a very positive feedback about our students, about their knowledge and skills in public health, commitment towards work and innovative ideas.

I wish a very successful career ahead to these students and extend a warm welcome to the prospective employers to include IIPHs in their list of prominent institutions to be visited for campus placements. I am confident that our collaboration will go a long way and be helpful for these budding public health professionals to build their career. On behalf of the IIPHs, I extend a warm welcome to your organisation to participate in the placement process.
